“ Sherril, I cannot begin to tell you how sorry I am for your loss. As a fellow father, I believe losing a child is the most egregious thing imaginable. My thoughts are with you and I hope you can find solace in the fact that great memories will always outlast deep sorrow. May the sun shine warm upon your face and the wind be always at your back. We WILL move on.

“ Matt and myself hired in into N-Stock Box the same year. Matt seemed very familiar and once I started speaking to him and delving into his background I figured out that his mother and her family were neighbors of my parents. From that moment on it was college football, Bengals and the Reds were what we discussed. Also food, he would always tell me where to go and what to have. I have missed Matt since he first went off of work and still miss him.

“ Matt was a beautiful child, a funny and loving teen, a thoughtful and concerned young man raised with love and respect for others. He fought through his illness with courage and faith, always hopeful and appreciative despite his pain. Rest in peace Matt, you beautiful baby, you will never be forgotten.
