“ Emily came to our home to celebrate Mary's birthday. She and Mary were very good friends. On that particular birthday, I had about six little girls in my kitchen. I allowed them to make pizza. Emily had the best time putting olive oil on the pizza dough. She always had a positive attitude and was a joy to be around. I will remember you fondly.

“ After the wedding, Emily got a little emotional and told me she thought of me as a sister. The ring bearer (Oliver) was asleep, the flower girl (Mackenzie) was crying over a bee and Bailey had to walk them both down the aisle. Emily just laughed and she was so beautiful that day.

My favorite memory was at their old apartment. I remember laughing at a commercial with kittens in bubbles and we also laughed about an orange I carried around all night.

My daughter Mackenzie loved the girl time they spent together.

Emily would do Mackenzie's make up and Oliver had to have some too!
