“ Begin in delight end in wisdom.

I have heard that it is free birds that sing the loudest. Out of all the things one can analyze, this fact remains unconcealed. We journey long on this Earth, whether it is 10 or 90 years. We Fellowship, linger in one another's presence. When we depart, it feels as if it was all so brief. So brief, because the time we have had with one another proves to never be enough. I do not think life is supposed to quench us. Instead, give us something to relish in, an opportunity to impart our love, moments to make memories, something in which we find delight. But it rarely unfolds in that manner. Instead, systems and social orders dictate our existence, and we find ways to make it anyhow. We are all strong women for our families, devoted mothers, incomparable companions with spirits that can be tamed Only by a physical body that refuses to comply. In our attempt to keep up with life, we have done well! In our endeavor to hold tight, we have done so!

JoAnn, you had the most meticulous house I have ever stepped in. Hospitable with a beautiful smile, you have done well raising two accomplished children. You did that! Your feist and fuel made you both beautiful and a force to be reckoned with. Our Lenape Roots is what binds us, and the strength we have acquired from the women before us is what we have in common. You will be missed. You will not be forgotten.

Nicole, Shawn, and your families have my sincere condolences. I have also experienced the never-ending sadness and void of both parents passing away. It gets lonely sometimes. I wish you peace. I wish you comfort.

“ Mom you were a strong women. I see where I get it from. The memory of a mother is unforgettable. Many of us have experienced this loss. We will always keep missing our mother in whatever we do and wherever we go. But still, we keep moving on despite all these pain and mourning. Even after all of that, sometimes we find ourselves in situations where we cannot help ourselves from expressing sad feelings about you like you did when Granny left this world in 2003. For me to lose my mom and dad makes me now fill empty. We found the letters you wrote us in 2008 about how proud you were of us. No matte what know Shawn and Nicole loved you to the moon and back and we will never forget that without you there would not be a Shawn and Nicole. Love you dearly, your Chocolate drop. Tell Granny and my dad I said hello.
