“ I remember Kaleb when he was just a little boy still in diapers and me and my sister would have him over to play with her little boy Coty and my grandson Dylan...He was a joy to have around and I will miss his smile and the things he said and done that made us laugh...My prayers are with the family and my sympathy as well...

“ My little man..they say a girls first love is her daddy..but not me. My first love was you. I picked on you a lot when we were younger but what siblings don't. As I grew older I realized how special and how much of an importance you were to my life. You added so much happiness and joy to me. I am literally so broken hearted and lost without you but I know that you're probably much happier and not hurting anymore. I love you hubby. I miss you so much and I just wish I could have hugged you or heard your voice. Forever my best friend.
