“ I have not seen Orie much in recent years but have wonderful memories of him as a boy growing up on Ross Street. Orie was younger than most of us but he would play football and rough and tumble with us and was fearless and competitive. He would jump up after a hard fall or tackle and be smiling like the happiest guy in the world. Later my father took my advice and drafted Orie two years in a row to play on the VFW pee wee football team. He played linebacker and fullback and was a team leader. He played with great desire and passion . As we both got older I was fortunate enough to go to Bengals games with Orie and Paul Nisbet. I was very lucky to have Orie as a friend. He was well liked by everyone.
