I did not write this! This is not even my style,,,,,,,,,,lots are true but lots aren't, He did love Mom more than life but he controlled her in many ways, Move help? Never me he hated me and Christian, Bob did have fits, He could have been someone, He had an outstanding view of electronics but always wanted to be a weather man as a child, No there was really not a lot between us actually had not spoke in years, He loved Amos then gave them to his nephew Joshua But the kitty stayed with me years before passing this year, And I do want to thank Pam for all she has done beyond her duty! I was NOT allowed to share our Mother,,,,,,,,,,,,,I finally have her back in my life the first born the last to go,,,,,,,,,I hope that I can be the daughter she needs and was denied, Shawn must answer God himself I forgive him, But my duty and love lies with Mom, I pray God has mercy,,,,,,,,,,,,,I don't think we'd ever got a long but it was not for lack of trying,

Shawn was a unique and different in his own way. He always had a beer. Drove around all night. Like to thank the funeral home Herr Riggs for their care and kindness. Pam Manning for all she did and our Aunt Dora Tipton for caring and always a helping hand. Shawn had dreams of being a meteorologist . He was a genius nothing ever got past him he'd figure it out. We were not close but not out of lack of love. He was the different child crawled backwards late to potty train just different than Christin and I. I have no idea who Mack Singh is. So I would omit him for the obit. Shawn didn't have a lot but always was their 25/7. He loved her more than life!! I think that lead to his demise. He never had children a solid relationship. His best friend in life was Roy Banks. Who proceeded him in death. He had several short lived jobs from steel mills to plating. Shawn actually passed De December prior. His body was found following April. He was not missing just never came around. Shawn's closet to a child was his cat Amos to which he gave to his nephew Joshua Bice of Keystone Heights Florida. Shawn loved to rebuild anything. He loved electronics to working on cars. He will be missed and short stories will always come to mind. He was cremated and remains were given to his Mother Betty Spicer who also passed and spread in Jacksonville Florida together.
