“ My sister bragged on me so much. Meanwhile..i should have been bragging on her. I always thought there would be time. My sister wrote a poem for me..that i needed so bad at that time. I was at my lowest. She had a way with words. I also do. I missed out in her life letting her know..letting everyone know the sister i lost. I will not let her down in death. I know what i have to do. What i should have done all along. What she did for me. It will be a long journey. But i wont let her down again. You're my hero sis. I should have said it then. I wont ever stop saying it. I know youre watching over me still. You always did.

“ Sister...O my sweet sister. I'm going to just put it out there because I don't know where else to put it. You are so amazing, you are truly one of a kind. I'm know that I don't have to beg you to forgive me BECAUSE I know that you already have. I am so sorry that I did not take more time, that I did not listen more or that I did not come around more. If I had on more day I would not take advantage of how much longer I would have you in person. With this I have learned to take more time in everything and everybody. To cherish more of everyone around me. That time does not stand still and does not wait for anyone. Even with you gone you are still teaching me. Please continue to do so, continue to show me. I will help keep your memory alive. I love and miss you so much. Please be with us always.

“ I thought she was my baby doll when she was a baby. Then she become my bff all my life. Susan was so full of love and understanding. She was my rock when my daughter Amanda passed away. With out her I couldn't have done it. The poem she wrote and read at her service. Now how do I deal with you gone ? Who is my run to person now ? I live you with all that I am or will ever be.
